Dedication

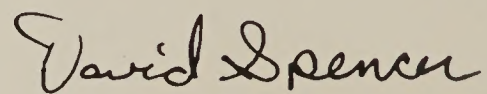

*Ed
Scott*

We, the Senior Class of 1961, respectfully dedicate this, the 1961 "Memories," to Mr. Ed Scott for the consideration, tolerance, and sincere interest which he gave to each of us during our Senior year. He will always remain in our fondest memories.

Foreword

Whether you are beginning or ending your high school days, memories of them will linger with you.

With this edition of Memories, the Seniors of 1961 want to keep your memories alive.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "David Spencer". The script is cursive and fluid, with the first letters of "David" and "Spencer" being capitalized and prominent.

Last Will and Testament of The Class of 1961

- I, Anne Hartman, who puts up a big front, will to Bob White a good "Mann" hunt.
- I, Phil Blackmore, Cuba's freedom-fighter, will to Stephanie Cummings a new cigarette lighter.
- I, Judy Crosley, so timid and shy, will to Louise Holler another base guy.
- I, Charley Woodard, who takes all the raps, will to Bob Endres and Buck Newsom some new hub caps.
- I, Dwight Crandell, alias "Twinkle Toes," will to Julie Dearing gobs and gobs of beaus.
- I, Sandra Satterfield, who always crams, will to Pam Van Gilder the right to cheat on exams.
- I, Phyllis Brown, with college in mind, will to Sister Carol the old high school grind.
- I, Jim Whitaker, Hi-Y's "bigwheel," will to Marvin Stewart my girl friend to steal.
- I, Delores Hall, who attends all the movies, will to Alice Staggs my dates with the smoothies.
- I, Becky Newsom, with apple-polishing fame, will to Barbara Cook some more of the same.
- I, Doyne Martin, the brains of the class, will them to Scott Alderton in hopes he will pass.
- I, J. D. Case, a Don Juan it's true, will to Larry Gosset my "lucky" horseshoes.
- I, Betty Carver, with my dates from Turkey Run, will to Joyce Batty the right to have fun.
- I, Gil Carlyle, out for a good time, will to Mike Rooksberry all he can get for a dime.
- I, Brenda Dickerson, with artistic ability, will Joanne Shockley a little humility.
- I, Linda Smith, for men I yearn, will Bonnie Brown towels marked His'n and Her'n.
- I, David Martin, who loves to scheme, will to Allen Barnes my place on the team.
- I, Beverly Wittenmyer, with my cute little swing, will to Lois Kent the right to have a fling.
- I, Kenny Coleman, who pays no rents, will to Eddie Cloyd my package of Kents.
- I, Marilyn Wimmer, with come-hither eyes, will to Judy Thomas the right to chase guys.
- I, Lauralee Perry, in math such a whiz, will to George Finney my old Civics Quiz, for a fee, that is.
- I, Leroy Boyd, who likes to hunt, will to Roy Reedy my hound, who's a runt.
- I, Dave Spencer, full of mirth, will to Jim Bradburn my assets on this good earth.
- I, Allen Stanley, who lives for the weekends, will to Steve Nelson sharp-looking girl friends.
- I, Kathy Murray, with my bottle of bleach, will to Anne Wimmer the right to preach.
- I, Judy Bloomer, so tall and sedate, will to Sue Pogue all my extra dates.
- I, Steve Cooper, who's bound to go far, will to Gary Shay the name, "Our Football Star."
- I, Verla Allison, with hair so dark, will to Danny Kerr the right to park.
- I, Mary Alice Remington, a real life saver, will to Linda Collier just one little favor.
- I, Phyllis Britton, by love I am smitten, will to Dennis Kesterson and Mike Herrick two cute little kittens.
- I, Larry Harney, who thinks three's a crowd, will to Nina Nelson and Gabby Cooper the right to be loud.

Senior Class Prophecy

One evening after returning from the gala festivities of the Miss Moon Contest, where Miss Betty Carver was the lucky winner from 1,000,000 contestants, my famed colleagues and I sat down to a tranquil evening of television. Much to our surprise we were confronted with a great change in the usual programs. It seemed that many of our long lost friends of the class of "61" had come to be established actors and actresses.

Since it was still early in the evening we caught the last few minutes of the Dobie Gillis Show. A peculiar incident had occurred. Alan "Maynard" Stanley, who usually spurns the female sex, rebelled when he discovered that he and "Dobie" Doyne were secretly in love with the same girl. After enduring this juvenile sequence for as long as we could, we were all in favor of seeing something more dramatic.

We were sorry to see that Playhouse 45 (which is only half as dramatic as Playhouse 90) had been canceled that night for a special, educational broadcast of the Enigmatic Eighties, featuring the Tallahassee Tassell Tosser, Judy Bloomer, and her Tassel Tossing Troupe - - De-lores Hall, Marlene Cooper, Beverly Kelley, and Phyllis Britton. After viewing this for an hour we certainly agreed that this was educational.

Then we heard a word from the sponsor: "Does she or doesn't she???? Only Verla's Beauty Salon knows for sure. (She probably does.)"

Next we enjoyed the musical portion of the evening furnished by the John "Welk" Doan Show, where "Hot Lips Harney," the bubbling bugle blower, made an appearance with his accompanist, Miss Barbara McKinney. This, however, didn't stop the champagne lady, Mary Alice Remington, from making her own special appearance. It seemed that she had been into the champagne again

Next we watched the Person to Person commentator, Edward R. Coleman, interview Miss Jeana Lola Lang, whose latest picture was High Time on High Street Tonight. He also visited the home of the famous David Spencer Tracy, who was rehearsing a love scene with his leading lady, Anne Hartman.

The CBS Report for the evening was "Champions of the Year." The champions were named as follows:

Jim Whitaker	"World's Fastest Knitter" (with or without needles)
Gil Carlyle	"Lover of the Year" (Veni, Vidi, Vinci)
Loretta Pruner	"World's Champion Bologna Sandwich Eater" (with or without mustard)
Mary Lois Rose	"Homemaker of the Year"
Lightening Steve Cooper	"World's Fastest D. J."

We were then interrupted by next week's sponsor: "In the mature male - - - HANK MAT-TICE????? Oh well, he uses Hoty Tody Doty deodorant anyway. (It makes anyone a man - - I think????)"

Switching channels we then enjoyed a short episode of Brenda Farmer Presents. The movie featured those zany, laughable, corny Three Stooges - - Charlie Woodard, Jerry Johnson, and Jack Trousdale. As usual, they performed magnificently.

Two outstanding features of the evening were on the athletic side. Big Time Wrestling featured "Bouncing Bertha Brown" against "Malicious Maude Murray." The referee of the match was "Cool Cat Case." After this the Pro Game of the Week presented the team of Carl Cooper,

Class Prophecy Continued

David Winn, and Keith Pogue battling it out with Martin "Unitas," "Big Daddy" Pruitt, and Nick "Moore" Ford. Both teams were assisted by the All American Water Boy, Co-ordination Crandell. We immensely enjoyed the half time entertainment of "Golden Boy" Blackmore, who scampered onto the field wearing a very scimpy gold-sequined pair of trunks. His baton proteges, Sharon Wright, Diana Perrine, Linda Jones, and Beverly Wittenmyer stepped lightly as they followed their master.

We then tuned to the popular dance party, Russian Bandstand, where the winners of two dance contests were presented. The lucky winners were Russell Greene and Pat Mitchell doing the Hully Gully Twist and Don Gardner and Linda Smith doing the Calypso.

The most amusing program was called Candid Camera Strikes by Helicopter. The pilot, Leroy Boyd, first went to Reno, where "Dice" Satterfield, "Snake Eyes" Wimmer, and Judy "Rock-feller" Crosley were betting their cool millions on the Roulette Wheel.

After viewing many interesting sights from the air, we flew over Leadville, Nevada, to survey the ruins of the laboratory of the once-famous physicist, Rebecca Newsom, who with her 50 foot slide rule has tried to prove that the aspirin enters the stomach in soft, tiny flakes. Unfortunately, the aspirin was whole when it entered her ill-fated stomach and she was blown to bits.

The finale of the evening was a most beautiful song sung by Misses Laura Lee Perry and Nancy Hamilton. This particular song, made famous by the class of '61 was Don't Drink it All - - - Save Some for Me.

Class Will Continued

- I, Jerry Johnson, "Jeny" by name, will to Larry Reeder a date with Phyllis Swaim.
- I, Linda Jones, a late movie hound, will to Rhom Thompson, Don Vaught, and Jon Warden, the run of the town.
- I, Beverly Kelly, who takes many vacations, will to Cathy Carr, the right to get out of entangling situations.
- I, Jean Lang, so short, it is true, will to Eric Snowden and Joe Parke the right to be short too.
- I, Russell Green, a handsome young flame, will to Jack Norman, Jack Bennett, and Lowell Dragoon, the rules of the game.
- I, Nancy Hamilton, a girl who is tame, will my temperament to Catherine Snodgrass and Nancy Swaim.
- I, Carl Cooper, a lazy young chap, will to Bob Morgan an ivy-league cap.
- I, Nick Ford, a wolf in disguise, will to Mike Mercer, my big soleful eyes.
- I, Mary Lois Rose, so sweet and kind, will to Ruth Ann Ross, whatever I find.
- I, Sharon Wright, so tall and so slim, will Karen Poling a boy friend named Jim.
- I, David Winn, everyone's friend, will to Owen Loney, all my old socks to mend.
- I, "Bashful Bill" Pruitt, will bubble gum to Carolyn Purcell, (I hope she can chew it).
- I, Marlene Cooper, who finds school so thrilling, will to Jim Millar, the walks between buildings.
- I, John Doan, a man about town, will to Steve Navel, a stomach so round.
- I, Don Gardner, who is so full of spite, will to Pat Pickett my ability to bite.
- I, Hank Mattice, who enjoys living, will to Bob McCord my big grey Chevy.
- I, Patty Mitchell, who loves to drive, will to Shirley Sharer the right to survive.
- I, Barbara McKinney, for sparking I'm noted, will to Jims Miller and Tarter a cow that's bloated.
- I, Jack Trousdale, who loves a good laugh, will to Paula Lovins my coat when there's a draft.
